PROGRAM ADVERTISING SPACE AND SPONSORSHIP INFORMATION SHEET

Dancing Monkey Presents is an "Equity Collective." We are a group of professional theatre artists with a mixed background of performance, direction and producing who have come together to produce and perform in Frank McGuinness' play "Someone Who'll Watch Over Me," a play that we are all passionate about and excited to share with audiences in both Kamloops and Vancouver. We're also interested in presenting in non-traditional spaces with non-traditional lighting and configuration to give the audience a more immersive experience.

The challenge, when you self-produce like this is always, of course, finding the money. Our budget for this production is around $7000. That includes costs such as renting performance spaces, liability insurance, set, lighting, costumes, performance rights, equipment, publicity, printing, you name it. We also want to make this accessible to everyone, so we have decided to keep our ticket prices low, which makes the risk of recouping this budget a lot higher. This is why we are reaching out to donors, sponsors and advertising revenue to help us reach our goals.

Below we have compiled a few ways that you can be a part of this project. These are just some guidelines, and we'd be more than happy to chat and work out something specifically tailored to you if you're interested in contributing. As the show will be playing both in Vancouver and Kamloops, there will be options to participate in just one of the cities or in both.

OUR REACH

Our audience capacity is 60. We will have 3 shows in Kamloops and 11 shows in Vancouver. There will be black and white programs available for everyone in the audience. In addition we will be visibly posting logos of our sponsors in the lobby. We will also be printing colour posters, which will be posted all over both cities, around 100 in Kamloops and 400 in Vancouver. We will also have around 700 4"x6" postcards that we will be handing out in both cities. We're building a great website, and all ticket and information traffic will go through there.

ADVERTISING IN OUR PROGRAM

There are three different sizes available for advertising in our program. Please send your ads in black and white, at the size listed, in .pdf or .tif format. If you would like, our graphic designer can create an ad for you at a competitive rate of $30/hr.
